

GRAN HOTEL MARGALIDA

Eperched above the historic agricultural terraces of Banyalbufar, Gran Hotel Margalida is a contemporary reimagining of Mediterranean luxury.

Every corner has been designed to frame the landscape. From anywhere in the hotel, you can see the sea; from every angle, the sunset. From the outside, the walls remain mysterious. Only those who enter become part of the daily ritual this enclave offers. Here, wellbeing and luxury are rooted in the power of calm — in the natural healing forces of the landscape and tradition, the balance between body and mind, and the profound beauty of rest. A holistic vision where gastronomy, wellness, design and service align to offer an experience beyond the expected.

THE ROOMS

Gran Hotel Margalida features 29 suites, each offering open views of the Mediterranean and facing west, where the sun surrenders every evening before the Tramuntana mountains. Spread across six distinct categories, starting at 25 m², every suite has been conceived as a retreat, a space for contemplation, silent beauty, and timeless calm.

The architecture is Mediterranean in essence: natural light, noble materials, clean lines, and organic textures.

GASTRONOMY

The culinary vision at Gran Hotel Margalida is led by chef Joan Escalas, one of the most promising young voices in Mallorcan cuisine. His approach begins with the ingredient, local, seasonal, and deeply Mediterranean and elevates it through precise, thoughtful technique. Each flavour preserves its essence, with preparations that echo both the sea and the mountains. Wild herbs, raw seafood, citrus, pickles, broths, oils... every element speaks of the island.

WELLNESS & SPA

Gran Hotel Margalida is home to a sanctuary of wellbeing that includes a holistic spa inspired by the rhythms of nature, a reformer pilates studio, panoramic gym, recovery lounge, massage cabins, and an open-air yoga platform. Facilities designed not to impress, but to help you reconnect with what matters — through beauty, balance, and depth.

LOCATION

To the west of Mallorca, suspended between the Serra de Tramuntana and the sea, lies a small enclave with a geography that borders on the impossible: centuries-old terraces cascading toward the water, sculpted houses rising from the hillside, and layers of history at their back

EVENTS

Gran Hotel Margalida offers a curated selection of indoor and outdoor spaces that adapt naturally to any kind of event, from intimate gatherings to larger celebrations.

Our rooms are fully equipped for both private and professional occasions, and can be configured according to the number of guests or the desired experience.

Every corner, from sea-suspended terraces to cypress-lined patios, can be personalised to create truly unique moments. But what makes any celebration here truly unforgettable is the view: a sweeping panorama of the Mediterranean, where the horizon becomes part of the setting, and the memory, part of the place.
